

Move

I Fight Dragons

I run from everything behind me
I run from everyone I know
If I keep moving they can't find me
I learn by going where to go

And I've learned so far
No matter where you are
There's always someone else if you're too slow

Don't tell me that your heart is breaking
Don't tell me that you feel alone
Just run until your legs start shaking
Don't stop until you hit the floor
And I hope one day
We find our way
Til then we got an awful lot to lose
So get up and move

Don't stop when everybody tells you
Don't stop when everybody does
If you're the only one still moving
Then keep on moving just because

And in time you'll find
It's just a state of mind
That stands between what is and what was
