

Never Go Alone

I Fight Dragons

It's all so new. It's all so insecure
We're charging through just like we knew for sure
Which way to turn, and what's in store
You look at me like I'm your everything
It's plain to see the blindness love can bring
But while it lasts I won't change a thing

No I never said it was easy
And I never told you you'd know which way to go
But now that you're here I can promise you
Wherever you're going, you'll never go alone

Sometimes it hurts. Sometimes you lose your way
Sometimes the words will run right off your page
Just take a breath, we'll be OK

No I never said it was easy
And I never told you you'd know which way to go
But now that you're here I can promise you
Wherever you're going, you'll never go alone

No I never said it was easy
And I never told you you'd know which way to go
But now that you're here I can promise you
Wherever you're going, you'll never go alone
