

A Place For Me

I Hate Kate

Waves roll, tide is high
I'm waving slow as you wave goodbye
And they crash, crash, crash into the earth
Headfirst
Speaking in distant metaphors
Flying through life like a meteor
Till we crash, crash, crashed into the earth
Headfirst

Pray that it's abandoned
If you get lost, you could find us again

So please, honey, keep
Won't you keep a place for me?
Where no one else can go
A song on the stereo
A letter or a memory
If you go, won't you keep a place for me?

Storm clouds thundering
Laying on the couch, just listening
As we drift, drift, drift into a dream
Downstream
I'll be the secret in your smile
Compass in your pocket in the wild
As you drift, drift, drift into a dream
Downstream

Pray that it's abandoned
If you get lost, you could find us again

So please, honey, keep
Won't you keep a place for me?
Where no one else can go
A song on the stereo
A letter or a memory
If you go, won't you keep a place for me?

Time flies, may I borrow?
A piece of yesterday, tomorrow
Let it grab the wheel and guide us home

Waves roll, tide is high
I'm waving slow as you wave goodbye
And we crash, crash, crash, crash
Crash, crash, crash into the earth

So please, honey, keep
Won't you keep a place for me?
Where no one else can go
A song on the stereo
A letter or a memory
If you go, won't you keep a place for me?
If you go, won't you keep a place for me?
If you go, won't you keep a place for me?
