

Have you ever heard that voice of reason whisper in your ear?
Oh did it say the things you never want to hear?
Tell me, where'd that angel perched upon your shoulder go?
Did you pick her up and swallow her whole?
And do you ever miss the balance of the back and forth...
Or is it peaceful now without the extra noise?
Tell me, where'd that devil perched upon on your shoulder go?
Did it make your head its home?

Wouldn't you love to be inspired?
Let the thought erode your fears.
Is it enough to be admired?
Does it get you through the years?

Stay calm. You've got to carry on, oh, even with the weight of all you've done.
How does it feel to know they look up to you cause they're all so young?
And that's why the charges come...
I wanna know, how many memories do you pray to forget?
Tell me, were they worth it?

Wouldn't you love to be inspired?
Let the thought erode your fears
Is it enough to be admired?
Does it get you through the years?
Well, I can't wait to watch your empire crumble.
Can't wait to watch the walls cave in.
For only when all you have is rubble, can you truly build again.

If you spend all of your time feeling you're empty inside,
then you should question everything you know about.
If you spend all of your time ignoring every sign then you should question how you'll ever make it out.

Hey, give me a reason not to cause some unrest.
Tell the press, stop your checks till you're homeless.
Hey, give me a reason you're entitled to this.
I'll bet you question how you'll ever...

And the levy's 'bout to break!
Yeah, you let the discord build 'til you're sick from the static and the devil in your head will yell!

Careful, better be careful what you wish for.
Careful, better be careful what you wish...

Wouldn't you love to be inspired?
Let the thought erode your fears
Is it enough to be admired?
Does it get you through the years?
Well, I can't wait to watch your empire crumble.
Can't wait to watch the walls cave in.
For only when all you have is rubble, can you truly build again.

Careful, better be careful what you wish for.
Careful, better be careful what you wish...
