

It dates back from the morning to the night
I don't want these feelings
These feeling I can't fight
I never said
That we'd be better off alone

Lights are off
So it seems like no one's home
We're having fun doing things they don't condone
Like showing up with a bottle of wine
With candles lit the mood feels right

The things we do when we're alone
The kitchen floor when no one's home
So drop the ego and let her replace
That empty space in you

Cause I'm sleeping with my best friends girlfriend
Don't leave me now because this isn't the end
But they're breaking it off again
Cause everyone want everything tonight

White lies but it matters all the same
Cause whose the victim if there's no one there to blame
And I can't sit still
She's going out tonight and she's dressed to kill
I'll break it off
Cause I've had enough of this
I'm going to tell him on a need to know basis
He acted like he never knew
He said please say I need this too

Cause I'm sleeping with my best friends girlfriend
Don't leave me now because this isn't the end
But they're breaking it off again
Cause everyone want everything tonight
And I'm sleeping with my best friends girlfriend
Well he knows but we'll still pretend
That all the time that we're taking up
Is not breaking up
The feelings we don't share

She wants out
And I can't display my feelings
And what I want to say
