Icon of Coil

We're flying Above the water Behold this broken wings We need We're swimming Beneath the surface Behold these fragile lungs We need We're walking Right through the weather Beware this damaged skin We need We're crawling Right by the mountains Beware their rocks are turning away We need Above the water We're flying We need these broken wings Behold Beneath the surface We're swimming We need these fragile lungs Behold We need Right through the weather We're walking We need this damaged skin Beware Right by the mountains We're crawling The rocks are turning away now Beware We need We're crawling We're walking We're swimming We're flying We rot through this world that we live in and die in We're crawling We're walking We're swimming We're flying
