

Blame It on Obvious Ways

Idlewild

All the mistakes I made I made because
I didn't know myself very well
And by this stage I feel like
I really shouldn't know myself
I'm forced into a sponsored silence
Where I'm only paid
If I don't say
What I want to say

Open up your eyes and say
I can't throw it all away
Open up your eyes and say
I can't give it all away
I couldn't even care what you say
You've changed
You change everyday
And blame it on your obvious ways

I gamble my praises
And threw the jukebox from my favourite phrases
As we cling to the nightclub walls
We whisper the words, we whisper them wrong

So we screamed out the wrong words
Into our own song
And with a kiss that tasted like drugs
Which taste like we'll never, ever make it home

Open up your eyes and say
I can't throw it all away
Open up your eyes and say
I can't give it all away
I couldn't even care what you say
You've changed
You change everyday
And blame it on your obvious ways

Throw me around
First you've got to count me down
Don't you think you should count me down
Before you throw me around
You've thrown me into

Another move I can't remake
It changes everything
Open up your arms and say
Give it all away
I couldn't even care what you say
You've changed
You change everyday
And blame it on your obvious ways