Lowdown

I don't want to throw away my time Playing games I don't respect or like I can't give away my sovereignty To existence with no song of me

And the hole in my heart I'm lowdown There's a hole in my heart I'm low There's a hole in my heart I'm lowdown There's a hole in my heart I'm low

I built myself a beautiful brick wall Gets a little higher every day ? ignorance inhabits me Cause I've already chased my love away

And the hole in my heart I'm lowdown There's a hole in my heart I'm low There's a hole in my heart I'm lowdown There's a hole in my heart I'm low

Take that happy banner off the wall I don't need to see no smiling face All I really want's a cup of tea To feel a warmth inside of me

And the hole in my heart I'm lowdown There's a hole in my heart I'm low There's a hole in my heart I'm lowdown There's a hole in my heart I'm low

There's a hole in my heart I'm lowdown There's a hole in my heart I'm low There's a hole in my heart I'm lowdown There's a hole in my heart I'm low
