

Fold This World

Ilse DeLange

Let the daybreak in the morning
We can't stop it now
Take my shadow, I won't need it
I'll follow you somehow

All I am and all that matters
Are ashes in the flames
Without you there is no story
Love now has a name

Break the blue sky through the ceiling
Drop these walls, they have no meaning
Fold this world in two, and I'm right next to
You and me are never ending
Like the big bang out of nothing
Fold this world in two and
I'm right next to you

See you swimming in my coffee
God, it's been too long
Your gravity it pulls me closer
The hunger makes me strong

Break the blue sky through the ceiling

Drop these walls, they have no meaning
Fold this world in two, and I'm right next to
You and me are never ending
Like the big bang out of nothing
Fold this world in two and
I'm right next to you
Next to you

Love is dancing in the middle
It echoes round and round and round
All you have to do is hold me
And we'll let the world go round and round
And round

Break the blue sky through the ceiling
Drop these walls, they have no meaning
Fold this world in two, and I'm right next to
You and me are never ending
Like the big bang out of nothing
Fold this world in two and
I'm right next to you
