

Indoctrinate

Immolation

Ready the youth
For this culture of madness
What a terrible time
To be brought into this world

Indoctrinated
By a parasitic rhetoric
Engineered to spread
Like a fever amongst the innocent

Make them see what you see
Make them be what you are
Indoctrination of the young
Insures your cause will always thrive

Catch them while they're young
Embed your venomous sting
This hidden abscessed splinter
Leaking deep inside them

Flowing through callow minds
A soothing toxin of promises
Altering their thoughts
Infecting those within their reach

Make them see what you see
Make them be what you are
Indoctrination of the young
Insures your law will always thrive

Bowing their heads in loyalty
Bowing their heads in shame
The rituals of conditioning
Repeated, over and over

Legions of disciples
Soon legions of soldiers
Innocent now
A dormant threat waiting to mature

A lifetime playing host
To this lunacy
Held fast
By the barbs of faith

Mad and blinded
Beyond reason
A haze of twisted morals
Clings to them all

Vessels for their war machine
Vessels for their way of life
This ravenous piracy
Of human minds
Designed to assure
Our ultimate downfall

The sadness of wasted life
The sadness of silenced dreams
Sorrow for these unwary victims
Witness the loss of all identity

Make them see what you see
Make them be what you are
Insures your rule will always thrive
