Immolation

No Christ...no cross
No pain...no loss
No wanton guilt for us to bear
No body...no blood
No crown...no thorns
No bastard son, no chosen one

I count the days When the oppressed are released The ending of his reign No Jesus, No Beast

No pits of sin to languish in No path of just for us to follow No foolish prayer and seething lies No virgin birth on pagan earth

I await the time
When our hatred is unleashed
He'll rule no more
No Jesus, No Beast

Leader of fools Creator of sin Extractor of hope Deceiver of truth

Can you hear us...Death to Jesus

As horizons overcast with menacing formations Those who will stand are committed no more Icon of icons, shattered and overtaken This Bastard, this Beast, this Jesus must die

No Christ...no cross
No pain...no loss
No wanton guilt for us to bear
No body...no blood
No Crown...no thorns
No bastard son, no chosen one

I count the days
When the oppressed are released
The ending of his reign
No Jesus, No Beast
