Answer To The Master

Impellitteri

you keep on running, been lonely for too long out on the boulevard, the hammer's coming down you feel the pressure, the fire in the storm you need another way, a shelter from the war let me take you past the fears inside your mind let me take you to the mansion in the sky

answer to the master, gonna' bring you to your knees breakaway the chains, he will give you rest answer to the master, when we reach our destiny every knee shall bow, every toungue confess

do you remember the power of the flame your mama told you that love will never end you used to tell me there's freedom in the sky you're staying down too long, it's time for you to fly let me take you past the limits of your mind let me take you to the mansion in the sky

answer to the master, gonna bring you to your knees breakaway the chains, he will give you rest answer to the master, when we reach our destiny every knee shall bow, every tongue confess

answer to the master, gonna' bring you to your knees breakaway the chains, he will give you rest answer to the master, when we reach our destiny every knee shall bow, every tongue confess

answer to the master, gonn' bring you to your knees breakaway the chains, he will give you rest answer to the master, when we reach our destiny every knee shall bow, every tongue confess answer to the master, gonna' bring you to your knees breakaway the chains, he will set you free