Imperative Reaction

You keep on sucking
Sucking off the machine
You keep on holding
Holding onto the dream

But nothing ever comes
Inching forward
Crawl for your goal
Convincing yourself
This is your role

We are the products of apathy
Selling ourselves out
To the hope of security
We remain devout

You keep on fighting
Fighting what you see
You keep on falling
Falling into your belief
That it can ever change

Scratching onward
Head to the ground
Pushing upstream
Face down
