

Without

Imperative Reaction

How can I make you see
How do I make you understand
For all these years now
I've been telling the truth

I'll always be here
I'll never leave
I'll never turn away
I'll make you believe

I know it doesn't matter what you say
It shows in everything I'm not
I try to reach through
I try to make you see
I'm lost here alone
Without you

How can I withstand this
How do I make it on my own
For all this time now
All I've known is you
And I'll wait forever

If it means you'll finally find a way
To see I'll never change, never break
This I won't forsake
Hold on, I won't let us fall apart
