I see, through thirty
Getting older, everyday
My soul, drawing pictures of innocent times
Can you add color inside these lines?

I want you to lead me, take me somewhere Don't want to live in a dream one more day I want you to lead me, take me somewhere Don't want to live in a dream one more day

Sure, it would change my perspective I am certain I would change today I am certain it would change our ways When things fall into place

I want you to lead me, take me somewhere Don't want to live in a dream one more day I want you to lead me, take me somewhere Don't want to live in a dream one more day

I want you to lead me, take me somewhere Don't want to live in a dream one more day I want you to lead me, take me somewhere Don't want to live in a dream one more day

Take me somewhere, don't want to live in a dream one more day ( 2x)
