Monsters in the Ballroom

In Flames

Without the sense of space or time The infinite The endless static The doubt. We never had a way

Let us play a game
If you take my hand
I'm going to get you out of here
Away from the monsters in the ballroom
And the swinging chandeliers

Tormented minds they wander
Drifting away from the light
I will lift you up my friend
You have to learn to breathe again

Unlock the secrets
Let us find the memories
Find ourselves some ruins
Turn them into something

You are lost within Fading out A world that threw you away
