

Satellites and Astronauts

In Flames

Since the day of my departure
I've been stumbling through reality
I play my symphony in reverse
As i aim for that special path

Be gentle to the tear in this eye
Lonesome arms, lost its wings again

Buy me a trip to the moon
So I can laugh at my mistakes
You see, I can see the end from here
From this perspective it looks kind of silly
Satellites and astronauts
Tell me there are greater things ahead

Make me feel like a man
A silent cry from the middle of hell
I, (the irony) I promise, I'll be mature
So please
Please invite me
Please,...invite me to your shelter again

Been hiding since I heard "never"
Take me back to yesterday, I need to grow

Buy me a trip to the moon
So I can laugh at my mistakes
You see, I can see the end from here
From this perspective it looks kind of silly
Satellites and astronauts
Tell me there are greater things ahead

(Solo)

Buy me a trip to the moon
So I can laugh at my mistakes
You see, I can see the end from here
From this perspective it looks kind of silly
Satellites and astronauts
Tell me there are...

Steal my mask and make me pay
I need a new skin
I'm going insane...
