

Where to Go

Inara George

where does the time go keeping where it's bitter to feel which way the wind blows where does the wind blow looking to a stranger to find out where to go

where to go
where to go
do you know where everyone goes

tell me a fortune
i already know

head for the hills
give up all belongings
that make you feel at home

run to the city
jump into the river
so you can be alone

where to go
where to go

we shouldn't hide there cause everyone knows

where to go
where to go

what can you remember what is it you know
