

Until the wind is blowing
We're sailing on, my friend
Until the darkness covers the light
We shall all keep the dark thoughts away

'Till the air we breathe
Is one for all
We're on the same boat
Sharing the same world
As long as we are here

So wake up
There's no time for wondering
Got to unite to live a life in harmony
I know it's high time to rebel
A high time to be there
Know we must
I hope we can

The color of the blood that's running
Through our veins is red
No matter what divides us
We are all pretty much the same

Till the air we breathe
Is one for all
We're on the same boat
Sharing the same world
As long as we are here

So wake up
There's no time for wondering
Got to unite to live a life in harmony
I know it's high time to rebel
A high time to be there
Yes we must
I hope we can
We can, we can...
