

Hangin' Around Again

Ingram Hill

Hangin' around again, in the shadow of your broken love
You let me down again, and I'm drownin' in the damage done
Hangin' around again, with my broken love left in your hand
Until you say you're not afraid to let me steal your heart
Or that you'll say a prayer for me in your bed at night
Or that you'll save a page for me in the book of your life

But now I'm
Hangin' around again waiting for you to see my light
You let me down again, cause you make me dream of you all night
And so I'll play my song for you and make it yours
So I can stay in your life always til the end of time
Or that you'll save a page for me in the book of your life
Sometimes I

Don't know why I hang around anymore
Hoping you'll love like you haven't before
Waitin' for you to come out of your shelter
Wanting to hold you

Hangin' around again waiting for you to see my light
You let me down again, cause you make me dream of you all night
Hangin' around again, with my broken love left in your hand
