Hey boy, I am a beauty queen
And I thought I see exactly what you're thinking
You believe in love at first sight
Oh yeah, what you're doing tonight
Oh you got plans
I guess I'll be alright

All right, all right
We've seen this one too many times
Come on, come on girl
You know it's time to change

Come on and give yourself a little respect my friend
You're beautiful, you can start over again
Come on and give yourself a little respect my friend
You're beautiful, you can start over and over

Hey girl, better put down that magazine
And you know, there's more to life than picture perfect
You know they give it up now
For the price they had to pay
Oh can't you see, they threw it all away

All right, all right
We've seen this one too many times
Come on, come on girl
You know it's time to change

Come on and give yourself a little respect my friend
You're beautiful, you can start over again
Come on and give yourself a little respect my friend
You're beautiful, you can start over and over

With my girls around the world
Respect is what we're fighting for
We're standing here, we want it now
Time to bring this back around

Come on and give yourself a little respect my friend
You're beautiful, you can start over again
Come on and give yourself a little respect my friend
You're beautiful, you can start over and over
