And it comes down to this When you take a look Got to find a reason Find it out What the fuck it's about

All you lovers
Take a look around
Before they cut your roses down
All they've got is bones and blood
Don't they know that love is around

Make your way through the pain You've got no one to blame Put a rope around Rush into the ground All in the name of love

All you lovers
Take a look around
Before they cut your roses down
All they've got is bones and blood
Don't they know that love is around

You meet the devil within
And that's a name not a friend
Comes around knocking down doors
And when you let him in
Gonna burn again

All you lovers
Take a look around
Before they cut your roses down
All they've got is bones and blood
Don't they know that love is around

All you lovers
Take a look around
Before they cut your roses down
All they've got is bones and blood
Don't they know that love is not around
