

(i Never Get) Winded

Iron Chic

These are the risks I take, this is the life I chose
And if I make mistakes at least they are my own
There is no fate but what we make
And in the end we all terminate
If we try and make our time worthwhile
Then we've done alright
The lights are out the doors are closed
The end of the show the end of the road
We can pretend that we don't know
But we know
