

Made to Suffer

Iron Fire

Passed down in the family tree
From birth it was your destiny
In the dark you will find the truth
Another broken child of the lost youth
You give in to the curse
The only thing that you have ever known
One lie filled with hate
Corrupted down to the bone

Your mother can't save you now
Your father can't change you now
It's time to take control and choose
The life you wanna live

Made to suffer
In a land of bitter illusion you walk
The final offer, make up your mind
Made to suffer
You speak the words of a poison solution
The final offer, don't be so blind
You were never made to suffer

Made to suffer

You drag the burden of your past
Wondering how long the pain will last
Why am I here if everything hurts
A black heart never meant to burst
Step out of the dark
Turn around it's never too late
Break down the wall
Show your true face to the world

Your mother can't save you now
Your father can't change you now
It's time to take control and choose
The life you wanna live

Made to suffer
In a land of bitter illusion you walk
The final offer, make up your mind
Made to suffer
You speak the words of a poison solution
The final offer, don't be so blind
You were never made to suffer

Force out the poison from inside
Spit out the madness and make it right
Force out the poison from inside
Spit out the madness and make it right

Make up your mind

Made to suffer
In a land of bitter illusion you walk
The final offer, make up your mind
Made to suffer

You speak the words of a poison solution
The final offer, don't be so blind
You were never made to suffer

Made to, made to
Made to suffer
