

The Last Survivor

Iron Fire

In a time of innocence we came heart to heart
We were breaking all odds until it fell apart
We put our trust in the brotherhood
In perfect harmony
One for all and all for one
It was all too clear to see

Slowly diving into the void
We were all too blind to see
The wicked road straight ahead
Now everything is dead

The last survivor (Facing judgement day)
Dark skies are covering the light
The last survivor (Now it's time to pay)
What's the point when there is nothing left inside
The last survivor

The hourglass was running out
But little did we know
Ignorant to the obvious
Bomb about to blow
Now the world is crumbling
And the Undead walk the streets
We are all the guilty fools
We were the ones to bring the heat

Slowly diving into the void
We were all too blind to see
The wicked road straight ahead
Now everything is dead

The last survivor (Facing judgement day)
Dark skies are covering the light
The last survivor (Now it's time to pay)
What's the point when there is nothing left inside
The last survivor

Now I'm your god, now I'm your god

The last survivor (Facing judgement day)
Dark skies are covering the light
The last survivor (Now it's time to pay)
What's the point when there is nothing left inside
The last survivor
