

Broken Mirror

Ivanhoe

For all these evil things I do these days
I have to say that's not me
To make decisions like a fool, I guess
A haunting devil is coming over me
Why can't I see like it used to be
Where am I and who's pointing right at me?
I know I'm lost and will be forlorn then
That mirror starts to break in front of me
As soon it's smashing
I hear it clashing
While a hundred demons are calling out my name
Nobody's with me
Then the mirror takes me
Alone with all my strongest fears
Pain and doubt is what remains
Bound and marked and soaked into the ground
Where is my strength the power I once had
The will and glory that surrounded me?
I went beneath the darkest line I guess
Then a haunting devil was coming over me
Why can't I see like it used to be
Where am I and who's pointing right at me?
I know I'm lost and will be forlorn then
That mirror starts to break in front of me
With the roar of thunder
I will go under
Covered with my lies
And buried in my sins
Nobody's with me
Then the mirror takes me
Alone with all my strongest fears
Pain and doubt is what remains
Bound and marked and soaked into the ground
Nobody's with me
Then the mirror takes me
Alone with all my strongest fears
I'm lost and long forlorn since the mirror
Started to break in front of me