

I Love You Mom

J Rice

I try to be strong
Try and hold it all in
And tell myself that you'll be back again
The days have been long
Even though my friends are here
They try to wipe away my tears

But what's the point in wiping tears
When I know
They'll still be here tomorrow

The only thing that stops them
Is knowing that you're finally at peace
In heaven

I still need to tell you something
I miss you
I'm so sorry that you're gone
But most importantly
I love you mom

Remembering back
When I was a little child
You always took the time to say
I love you
You always made sure
That my bed was always made
And I wore my safety belt

Now I can't stop wiping tears
Cuz I know
They'll still be here tomorrow

And the only thing that stops them
Is knowing that you're finally at peace
In heaven

I still need to tell you something
I miss you
I'm so sorry you're gone
But most importantly
I love you mom

I love you
I love you mom