

It's Ok to Cry

J Rice

I don't know where to go from here, cause anywhere that I go, you're there so many streets, different names, but they all lead to the same lonely place
And I don't know how to start again, don't even know where the hurt began

Cause when you're this low everywhere you try to go looks like a dead end
And now that everything is over..

I'll cry, if I still hurt,
I'll cry, cause after I feel better,
It's too hard to keep inside
all the emotion I feel tonight
I'll cry, you think is worse
I'll cry, cause that's is only answer
It's so hard falling out of love, finding yourself after you break up
(It's ok to cry)

Felt like we were on a tied rope
I lost my balance when you let go,
I get up again, fall in love again, I gotta heal my soul
And when the past brings back the pain, don't be afraid to face the rain
'cause it'll wash away any trace of yesterday, and you'll feel okay,
but after everything is over, if I still hurt...

I'll cry, if I still hurt,
I'll cry, cause after I feel better,
It's too hard to keep inside
all the emotion I feel tonight
I'll cry, you think is worse
I'll cry, cause that's is only answer
It's so hard falling out of love,
finding yourself after you break up
(It's ok to cry)

A broken heart will stop the world from spinning, a second chance will wait for you to start living again...
I'm maybe down but I ain't out forever, I'm holding out for something so much better but if I ever hurt...

I'll cry, I'll cry,
It's too hard to keep inside
all the emotion I feel tonight
I'll cry, I'll cry,
It's so hard for another love,
finding yourself after you break up
(It's OK to cry)
