

One of Them

Jace Everett

Crawled from the wreckage
Sprung myself a leak
Took down a bottle
Poured it in the sink
I crossed myself one time
Raised up and prayed for rain
Hid in the compartment of
A long gone Memphis train

You might remember me
I was your next of kin
You gotta help me, babe
I think I'm one of them

There's a god above you
Another down below
Come greet the day
There's just one thing
You oughta know
What happens next
Don't think anyone can say
But when it gets here
You best get out of the way

You made a promise, babe
To love me 'til the end
And you can't back out now
Just 'cause I'm one of them

Cain split the atom
And he laid it in my bed
I changed the sheets
And built a fire there instead
I climbed the latter
Straight up into Jacob's room
Sat on his bed
And gave myself a talking to

Read revelations
Chapter one until the end
Who's gonna save me now
Looks like I'm one of them

Red revelations
Chapters one until the end
Who's gonna save me now
Looks like I'm one of them
