Ships In The Night

Jack Bruce

Ships in the night
Searching for day
Beckoning lips
So far away
Shadows adrift
Hiding from light
Ships in the night
Sometimes you feel
Then again you can't
Morning comes down
Soon after the dance
Time slowly drowns
Streets so unreal
Needing to heal

Harbours of love Shining so calm Far beyond pain Outside of harm Why must we move Into the rain Again ...

Ships in the night Riding the waves Yesterday slips Into the haze Memories ripped Sliding from sight Ships in the night

Maybe you win
Maybe you lose
Future seems like
Just another ruse
Sirens invite
Us to begin
Come right on in

Harbours of love Shining so calm Far beyond pain Outside of harm Why must we move Out of the sun Into the rain Again ...
