In my mind I see the terrible deeds we've done Convincing of the loved MacBeth to gain the crown All I wanted was to taste of royal blood Beholding things of kings has me drowning in a flood of treache

All I see is red. Staining things once pure All I see is red. Cannot wash the stains

All I want in life is to wear regal robes and dance upon the co urts of kings for a while Cannot erase this guilt contained within my mind. Demands a heavy price. I pay it with my life

All I see is red. Staining things once pure All I see is red. Cannot wash the stains

I welcome death, and the final rest it brings. Peaceful sleep. Peaceful sleep!

I welcome death, and the final rest it brings. Peaceful sleep. Peaceful sleep!

All I see is red. Staining things once pure All I see is red. Cannot wash the stains

All I see is red. Staining things once pure All I see is red. Cannot wash the stains

Goodbye, MacBeth, goodnight, my sweet The dagger's pierce brings needed peace
