

Tell me, are you confident
In what you believe in
Ever since we've been apart
You haven't been sleeping
Do you believe in me?
Tell me, have we hit the ceiling?
Only three weeks with you
Know you better than all four seasons

Ever since I met you
Ever since the days we were together
Heaven knows that I could never ever forget you

While I'm getting close to midnight
You're taking pictures of the sunrise
Even though we're on different sides
Our worlds are moving at the same time

Nobody gets me
You know exactly what I'm saying
Nothing makes sense to me
Take it all and we arrange it
It's hard on the outside
We know that everybody's watching
But on the inside it's you and me
And there's just no stopping

Ever since I met you
Ever since the days we were together
Heaven knows that I could never ever forget you

While I'm getting close to midnight
You're taking pictures of the sunrise
Even though we're on different sides
Our worlds are moving at the same time

Now I'm staring at the moonlight
And you're watching over blue skies
But every time we close our eyes
Our worlds are moving at the same time

Ever since I met you
Ever since the days we were together
Heaven knows that I could never ever forget you

While I'm getting close to midnight
You're taking pictures of the sunrise
Even though we're on different sides
Our worlds are moving at the same time
Now I'm staring at the moonlight
And you're watching over blue skies
But every time we close our eyes
Our worlds are moving at the same time
