

I'd Give You the Moon

Jake Coco

You were always changing clothes
Torn some dress and panty hose
Crumpled up upon my floor
And you'd abandoned all your dreams
Give them up, or so it seemed
For the chance to be my girl

And the world won't ever change
If you always stay the same
And I'd give you the moon if I could
And I'd give you the stars if I could
And I'd give you my heart if you would take me as I am

And you were always switching roles
Now you love me, now you don't
Like a lover in disguise.
But I was always chasing dreams
Without an end, or so it seems
But I guess that's how it goes

And the world won't ever change

If you only stay the same
And I'd give you the moon if I could
And I'd give you the stars if I could
And I'd give you my heart if you would take me as I am

And if only stars could shine as bright as you and I
Maybe then I'd grow some wings and I could learn to fly

And I'd give you the moon if I could
And I'd give you the stars if I could
And I'd give you my heart if you would take me as I am

And I'd give you the moon if I could
And I'd give you the stars if I could
And I'd give you my heart if you would take me as I am
As I am
As I am
As I am
As I am
