

Tyler's Song

Jake Coco

If you step outside today, could you breathe a bit for me and let me know just how it feels to be alive and doing well, not afraid to kiss and tell. Let me know just what I'm fighting for

Don't blink, don't breathe, just lay with me. I promise it's not over
If I fall tonight, it will all be alright. I promise it's not over
This is not goodbye.

I'll be up here smiling down, and at first you'll wait around, but I hope that one day you'll learn to carry on
And I'll watch our children grown, and I hope you'll let them know, of their daddy who's been watching all along

Don't blink, don't breathe, just lay with me. I promise it's not over
If I fall tonight, it will all be alright. I promise it's not over
This is not goodbye.

and I want you to know that when you feel alone
I'll be smiling down, lookin' out for you

If you step outside today, could you breathe a bit for me and let me know just what I'm fighting for

Don't blink, don't breathe, just lay with me. I promise it's not over
If I fall tonight, it will all be alright. I promise it's not over
This is not goodbye.
