

Reset

Jake Miller

What are we even doing? What have we done?
I barely recognize the people we've become
Somebody had to say it, I'll be the one
We used to hold each other, now we hold our tongues

Is it too late now? Too late to start over
Too late now? Too far away to get closer
So much fire, then why are we getting colder?
Damn, I need to know

Can we just reset to the day we met?
If you let me apologize for all the shit I said
Can we just reset, forgive and forget?
'Cause I can't take this silence, it's too quiet in this bed

Can we just reset? (Can we, can we)
Can we just reset?
Can we just reset? (Can we, can we)
'Cause I can't take this silence, it's too quiet in this bed

Let's get dressed up this evening, let's play pretend
We'll go back to the restore of where we began
I'll act like I don't know you, not even your friends
I'll walk right up and introduce myself again

Is it too late now? Too late to start over
Too late now? Too far away to get closer
So much fire, then why are we getting colder?
Damn, I need to know

Can we just reset to the day we met?
If you let me apologize for all the shit I said
Can we just reset, forgive and forget?
'Cause I can't take this silence, it's too quiet in this bed

Can we just reset? (Can we, can we)
Can we just reset?
Can we just reset? (Can we, can we)
'Cause I can't take this silence, it's too quiet in this bed
