

My Uprising

James Morrison

Sitting here, thinking of my downfall
Started with you and ended in my downfall
My happiness was never meant to be
Always about you, never about me and my downfall

Things can only get better
There's been a change in the weather
Pretty soon it will be time for my uprising, my uprising

All of my plans got crushed in your hands, I was so low
We were together for far too long, I had to go solo
Plotted my course when all is said and done
Heading out for that setting sun sinking so low

Things can only get better
There's, there's been a change in the weather
Pretty soon it will be time for my uprising, my uprising

There's no stopping me now
There's no stopping me now
There's no stopping me and my uprising

Things can only get better
Things have got to get better
There's been a change in the weather
Pretty soon it will be time for my uprising

My uprising
There ain't no turning back
My uprising
