Jamie Lidell

I been burning a hole in my shoe running from a mirrored You sometimes you can't face to be standing in your own reflection I don't wanna be closed but opening up has left me completely exposed tonight my cup is overflowin It's a stupid sorry place I'm falling Hot tears drippin down like coffee through it's blackness I can see but sometimes I can't face to be standing in my own reflection I don't wanna be closed but opening up has left me completely exposed I don't Wanna be closed but opening up has left me completely exposed Please please pull me out from Under here I've been down down too long please please please pull me out again I promise I'll be strong strong this time I don't wanna be closed but opening up has left me completely exposed.
