

I Can Love Again

Jamie Lidell

Both have to fight a fierce wind
that wants us to yield to each other so badly it's starts to threaten the heard out of it's cage now you're gone and I'm in your sweet home I'm surprised at myself coz usually i'd try and find things that smell like you oh yeah
and take myself away with them as if you were in the space your sweaty scent still lingers I don't wanna imagine you no more I just want you warm against me no substitute wrapped in our forbidden heat again I long to feel the pull of your ocean to swim in those eyes simply to know
