

Marathon

Jamie N Commons

Well I'm not the one to preach the power of love
And I'm not the one to tell you what you want
She got the lock and she got the key
Ashamed to say she's got a hold on me

Oh, I can't see no reason why
Oh, I can't keep you satisfied
Hey!

She keep running, she keep running around
She keep running, she keep running around
She ain't a sprint, she's a marathon
She keep running
She keep running around, she keep running around

Got held up, now my head's hung low
Got tangled up where the rumors grow
And it's hard to explain just what she means to me
But if you love it, man, then you set it free

Oh, I can't see no reason why
Oh, I can't keep you satisfied
Hey!

She keep running, she keep running around
She keep running, she keep running around
She ain't a sprint, she's a marathon
She keep running
She keep running around, she keep running around

She keep running around (3x)

She keep running, she keep running around
She keep running, she keep running around
She ain't a sprint, she's a marathon
She keep running
She keep running around, she keep running around

She keep running, she keep running around
She keep running, she keep running around
She ain't a sprint, she's a marathon
She keep running
She keep running around, she keep running around
