

Sleepless Nights

Jamie's Elsewhere

The only home I know
Is on the open road
I sacrificed everything
This is the life I chose
Sometimes we lose sight inside
What really matters most

Melody is therapy
To get through the nights
You think it's easy to leave my blood
You think it's easy to hear him cry

I need to find my way
Find my way back home
Oh I beg and I plead
You'll understand someday
Why father had to go
And I've been missing a part of myself

There's not a piece of you in me
Twenty four years never to be seen
I'll never be like you
You're just a sad excuse
You're just another dead beat!

You're just another dead beat!

Melody is therapy
To get through the nights
You think it's easy to leave my blood
To leave my blood behind

I need to find my way
Find my way back home
Oh I beg and I plead
You'll understand someday
Why father had to go
And I've been missing a part of myself
And I've been missing you
I'm not dismissing you
You're the most important part of me
And I'm hoping one day you'll see
Why father had to go
I'll find my way back home

I'll find my way back home

Seven years now it's my time
But where the fuck are you father of mine
Selfish
The road was my home
But my home holds my heart
The blood in my bones

I need to find my way
Find my way back home
Oh I beg and I plead

You'll understand someday
Why father had to go
I'm not dismissing you

Make sure to hold your loved ones close
Cause there's an end to every road!
