The Prodigal

Jamie's Elsewhere

Oh wondrous, is this surrounding Where gravity releases me So that I may stay beneath

Ocean blue Am I really what you seek? Another nameless sailor's ghost Lost to the sea

Oh, what have I become A prodigal son A mouth without a word to say A question begging for an answer?

Open my eyes To see the crystal blue In the depths You were still there

Oh, what have I become A prodigal son A mouth without a word to say? When all is said and done Will I reap what I've sown?
