

Smile

Jane Birkin

SMILE

-----

Autor - Brian Molko, Rachel Borkett Duet Jane Birkin - Brian Molko (zpěvák, skladatel a kytarista kapely Placebo)
-----

- Don't stare at your face
With your nose out of place
At the wrinkles where zits used to be
And remember that smiling
Uses less muscles
And frowning just makes you look ugly

So smile
Smile
And the whole world smiles with you
They'd smile
They'd smile
If the whole world just had a clue

- Don't mess with your man
When he's selling you grams
He would kill you for less and then smile
And don't curse at a whore
As you open the door
'Cos your service won't be with a smile

- So smile
Smile
And the whole world smiles with you
They'd smile
They'd smile
If the whole world just had a clue

Don't sneer at your doctor
Or gamble and proctor
'Cos they're just dawns in the game
- The perfect prescription
Is one that you're given
That's filled out in Jesus' name
- Don't be scared of your preacher
'Cos he's just a leach
He's too busy cruising your ass
- There's a verse in the bible
That says we're all liable
For everything that comes to pass

- So smile
Smile
And the whole world smiles with you
They'd smile
They'd smile
If the whole world just had a clue
So smile
Smile
Smile

smile
smile
smile