

Perfect Strangers

Jared Evan

You think you're all alone
And that there's no one home
But it's just you and I
Perfect where we belong
No need to analyze
Who, what, where, when and why
What we all need to know
Is that there's no disguise

Yeah, and I ain't leaving it on
We haven't met each other yet
But we already know
Not everybody in this place is leaving alone
We displaying who we are
So it's easy to show
I had a girl I won't forget
She just won't seem to go
You know that I still love you
This is me reading a poem
I think we've all been connected
To people we know, it's just that
Some of them come and some of them go
I said we all in this whole place
Rhyming like Ghostface
Looking for a lane until
We drive in it with no space
It's only true that I
Don't show you a disguise
Yo we're perfect you and I

It's just you and I till it's over
I don't need no disguise cause I know you
We're some perfect strangers
We're some perfect strangers
We're some perfect strangers
(Oh oh)
(Oh oh)

They say Jared when you gon blow up?
Remember back in 09 when you signed
The deal and everybody used to show up?

Now you doing shows autographing from their toes up
Running round the world
Look like you chopping the globe up
So this is what they call life
Thank goodness for that
I went on tour and I thank Hoodie for that
It's crazy sometimes when
You think about the lives that we lead
And the fact that we try to succeed
Yeah, so I'm climbing away
And I ain't stopping till I reach the top and I stay
And I remember when I heard my manager say
You shouldn't rap, you should sing you're better that way
But then we went our separate places
And different stages

And I learned about shit
And understood how it changes
And all I have to say is yo yo, uh
We're all some perfect strangers

It's just you and I till it's over
I don't need no disguise cause I know you
We're some perfect strangers
We're some perfect strangers
We're some perfect strangers

Oh Oh

It's just you and I till it's over
I don't need no disguise cause I know you
We're some perfect strangers
We're some perfect strangers
We're some perfect strangers

Perfect strangers
We're some perfect strangers
