

Love For The Lonely

Jasmine Thompson

When we lie in bed with our eyes shut
Body to body, as we touch
You could be anyone
You could be somebody else
And when all the lights are turned down low
All you become is a shadow
And you could be anyone
You could be somebody else

And I'm ashamed, baby
'Cause I've been in pain lately
Oh, and I don't know why
I'm staying the night
I should be leaving
'Cause I don't even believe it
But I need you tonight

This is love for the lonely
The one where you never know me
'Cause I'm unbreakable, oh, oh
And you could be anyone, oh, oh
This is love for the lonely
The one where you never know me
'Cause it's replaceable, oh, oh
And you could be anyone, oh, oh, oh, oh

We only talk when we're wasted
You always claim I'm complacent
I swear it's nothin' that you've done
It's just that I'm still feelin' numb
But I say I love you 'cause I love the feeling
Of having somebody to keep my heart beatin'
But you could be anyone
You could be somebody else

And I'm ashamed, baby
'Cause I've been in pain lately
Oh, and I don't know why
I'm staying the night
I should be leaving
'Cause I don't even believe it
But I need you tonight

This is love for the lonely
The one where you never know me
'Cause I'm unbreakable, oh, oh
And you could be anyone, oh, oh
This is love for the lonely
The one where you never know me
'Cause it's replaceable, oh, oh
And you could be anyone, oh, oh
You could be anyone
You could be anyone

This is love for the lonely, oh, oh
And you could be anyone

This is love for the lonely
The one where you never know me
'Cause I'm unbreakable, oh, oh
And you could be anyone, oh, oh
This is love for the lonely
The one where you never know me
'Cause it's replaceable, oh, oh
And you could be anyone, oh, oh
You could be anyone, oh
And you could be anyone
