

Blown Away

Jason Michael Carroll

I want to tell you something that you already know
But you haven't heard it in a while
Yet we prayed so long for a rainbow
Cause we could really use the gold
But you forgotten how to smile
That's just not your style

You're beautiful, you're everything
You're my reason for living
Baby, you're all I need
I must confess, even when you're stressed
You're amazing and I'm blown away by you

You used to love when we go dancing
But now the pushes come to shove
And you say you know we can afford to
But we don't need a lot of money
To turn that old radio up
And dancing alone in our living room
And darling we're overdue

You're beautiful, you're everything
You're my reason for living
Baby, you're all I need
I must confess, even when you're stressed
You're amazing and I'm blown away by you

In case you don't remember
Just how much you mean to me
Whatever kind of a weather
You make my life complete

You're beautiful, you're everything
You're my reason for living
Baby, you're all I need
I must confess, even when you're stressed
You're amazing and I'm blown away by you
I'm blown away by you
