

Lion Of Judah

Jason Upton

No one knows the hour
No one knows the day
Jesus is coming soon
All creation trembles, longing for the day
Jesus is coming soon

There will be judgment
There will be mercy
On that terrible day
Leaders will bow down
Kingdoms will fall down
Have you felt your world begin to shake?

Hear the sound of the Lion of Judah
See the fire and the fear in the enemy's camp
From the sound of the lion of Judah roaring again
There's a new generation arising
A nameless, faceless, placeless tribe
All they fear is the fear of the Lord
All they hear is the Lion of Judah

All I saw were bones breaking in the darkness
Then I walked into the light
There I saw an army coming from the river
With five stones ready to fight
