I Married You For Love

Jean Shepard

I was counting all my riches as I stared along today Call myself the lucky one though not a penny could I pay You placed the ring on my hand mother nature's smiled above You gave me your heart I gave you mine I married you for love A mansion on a hilltop wouldn't mean a thing to me I'd never step inside it dear if you're not there with me I worry so if you're not by my side it's you I'm thinking of I want you more than life itself I married you for love

A mansion on a hilltop...
