The Woman He Walked On

Jeff Bates

You don't hurt a woman if you're a real man And then turn your back on her tears He left bruises, excuses And promises that were useless But, baby, that's why I'm here

'Cause I worship the woman he walked on I'm gonna hold you at night till you're satisfied And I'm gonna right all he did wrong I worship the woman he walked on

I won't sleep around while you're sleeping alone
Then come home and crawl in our bed
He gave up your sweet touch
And the way that you make love
He must be out of his head

'Cause I worship the woman he walked on I'm gonna hold you at night till you're satisfied And I'm gonna right all he did wrong I worship the woman he walked on

Yeah, I worship the woman he walked on
I'm gonna hold you at night till you're satisfied
And I'm gonna right all he did wrong
I worship the woman he walked on

Yeah, I worship the woman he walked on You don't hurt a woman if you're a real man And you don't turn your back on her tears
