

Somebody Else

Jeff Bridges

I used to be somebody but now I am somebody else
I used to be somebody but now I am somebody else
Who I'll be tomorrow is anybody's guess.

What was thought to be the right way turned out the wrong way a fter all
What was thought to be the right way turned out the wrong way a fter all
What I took to be the high road
Was only leading to a fall.

I used to be a preacher, with women and fame and wealth
I used to be a preacher, with women'n'fame and wealth
From a mighty congregation
To talking to myself.

I was cleared of all the charges with money, women and my pills
I was cleared of all the charges with money, women and my pills
Now that I'm a brand-new man,
You belong with someone else.

I used to be somebody but now I am somebody else
I used to be somebody but now I am somebody else
Who I'll be tomorrow is anybody's guess -- Anybody's guess.
