

I Call Everybody Bubba

Jelly Roll

Grew up on the south side
I been sipping Kryptonite
I been smoking on that fucking Michigan
It gets me high
I call everybody Bubba
I call everybody Bubba

Pick up the phone, call up my folk
Tell 'em this year we want all of the smoke
'Cause she told me I should follow my nose
To a house on the hill with a whole lotta hoes
Whole lotta blow, eyes in the sky again
I'm drippin' wet from the woman I'm divin' in Man my pupils are the size of a dime again
This ain't the shit that's gon' fuck up my sinuses
Woo, forgive me I'm sippin'
If I could change, wouldn't live any different
Don't be confusing the shit that I'm sipping
Swear that my only addiction is women
Hah! Till the daylight
Have you ever get stuck on a late night
Have you ever get drunk at a gravesite
Jumped in the water full of them great whites
Dear Father, Son and the Holy Ghost
Thought I had some partners that had overdosed
Had some homies that sold their soul
Lotta heartbreaks on these roads I've rolled
Lord I know, though eyes closed
I still see the seeds I've sown
These demons won't leave my home
I just wanna be alone

This that southern shit
That pimping shit we used to listen to
This that southern shit
That pimping shit we used to listen to
This that southern shit
That pimping shit we used to listen to
Men don't talk about men
That's what bitches do
